“Wow! Thinking of you today Lin just like the many other days. We all miss you intensely and it's still hard to believe that you're not here. Your baby girl (Alexis) who is such a young lady misses you dearly and of course still trying to deal with the loss. Off course, non of us can fill that void. You were such a loving father and she knows without a doubt that you loved her and she certainly loves you. We all talk about you a lot with the many, many funny stories of things you would do and certainly the things that you would say. There's no other like you, you were certainly one of a kind. Rest in peace big brother. Love you forever and always.

“ Our family would like to express condolences to The White Family. May you find comfort from Jehovah God's Word The Bible. He assures our dear loved ones of the resurrection hope to a restored beautiful paradise earth. He even promises us at 1 Corinthians 15:26 that "the last enemy death will be brought to nothing". Our prayers are with your family.

“ I'm so sorry for your loss and would like to offer my condolences to your family. Death is such a terrible thing for a family to go through, I actually lost my mom about 5yrs ago. I'm truly grateful that I have the truth about death and look forward to the future when there will be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous.”— ACTS 24:15. I'm sure you would love to see your dead loved one again in the coming Paradise here on earth! Again so sorry for your loss!!

“ Rest in Peace Lin! I didn't think you would be leaving us so soon, but I know without a doubt that God knows best. Of all of the children, several of us have agreed that we felt in our hearts you would most likely be the first one out of the bunch to join momma and daddy in heaven. Even though momma sincerely loved all of us, the two of you had a special kind of bond and she looked out for you as if you were her baby. I think momma passed that responsibility on to me to continue looking out for you once she left. I did the best I could in trying to do just that...look out for you and make sure that you were ok, especially during your period of trials and tribulations.

My heart is heavy, and the last few days have been really tough, but I know "this too shall pass" as time goes by.. I will miss you dearly Lin, I'll miss all of the little things in life like listening for your foot steps during all hours of the night, opening your bedroom door checking on you last thing at night and first thing in the morning, I'll miss your presence, your laughter, your TV being turned up too loud at times and me having to tell you to turn the volume down. I'll miss your singing, your smart mouth at times, as well as, your hilarious sense of humor and loving spirit. You could have had your own reality show, just you and the brothers. We all will miss the pranks and jokes that would naturally occur with you, Nay, Sherman, Rudolph, Dee and Tommy. Of course, you loved teasing Doug I think the most. I'll miss you greeting me in the kitchen as I come in the house from work each evening just to tell me what you heard on the news today. I'll miss you abruptly interrupting Tommy and I many times when we're sitting in the kitchen talking as if we were sitting there just waiting on you. I'll miss hearing you calling Alexis very early every morning telling her to get up for school, Of course, sometimes you had no idea just how loud your conversation would be at times.

Most of all I'll miss you surprising me by trying to cook dinner or by boiling eggs for me to take to work for breakfast and telling me how much you love and appreciate me. In fact, that was the last meal you fixed me on Thursday morning. As you would say, "Thank you for taking care of me sis." I love you back big brother and I know you knew how much I loved you even though you worked my nerves at times. Some times it was like a mother with her child as Nay would sometimes tell us both and tease you about having a car seat in my car. You were always the life of the party. Watching you teasing and dancing with the nieces, nephews, Tricia, Hermi and others was always hilarious. I will definitely miss the many times that we would laugh and sing together. You always had such an amazingly strong and beautiful voice. You should have been a professional singer.

One thing for sure, I no longer have to worry about you each and every day while trying to work or when I lay down at night because I know that you are now resting in peace and doing just fine. I hope I made mom proud and will now have to adapt to the change in my life.. As you know, it wasn't an easy job looking out for you due to some of your health challenges, but I have no regrets. While you're probably up there giving report to momma and daddy on all of us, don't forget to take time to tell on yourself. It's been a blessing to have had you in my life, especially as a brother. Farewell Lin until we all meet again. Love you always big brother,

One of your little sisters....Shelia

“ I am so sorry for your loss. The death of a loved one is the most difficult thing we deal with. We can always find comfort from God's word the Bible at (John 5:28-29) " Do not be amazed at this for the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." Jesus Christ promised that millions now dead will live again on this earth and have the prospect of remaining on it forever peaceful paradisaic conditions. Death will be removed from all the earth (Isaiah 25:8). Tears of sorrow will vanish (Revelation 21:4). No one will die from natural causes or weep. May Jehovah God of all comfort be with you and your family. (2 Corinthians 1:3-4).
