

Jessie Blanche Cooke

April 25, 1917 - October 22, 2006

Mrs. Jessie B. Cooke, daughter of the late Claude and Cornelia Clemons, was born April 25, 1917, in Greenville, North Carolina. She departed this life Sunday, October 22, 2006 at Union Memorial Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, after a lengthy illness. Jessie accepted Christ at an early age and became a member of City Temple of Baltimore (Baptist) Church. She received her education in the public schools in Greenville, North Carolina. She continued her education at Dunbar Evening School as a Fashion Designer. She was employed also at the United States Custom House, where she worked for several years. She was married to the late Willard Francis Cooke. Her passions that she loved was her dogs, lottery, the TV game shows, church and just trying to help people in general at any given time, you could see her ruling Chase Street. She leaves to cherish her memory and legacy: a devoted daughter, Ann Wagstaff Brown; loving grandson, Clyde W. Brown; five great-grandchildren, three sisters-in-law, a host of nieces and nephews, and a multitude of friends.

“ Please accept my condolences on the loss of your loved one. It truly is unfortunate that we must experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. However, there is a source of comfort for us. God's Word, the Bible assures us that "the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort...comforts us in all our tribulation." 2 Corinthians 1:3,4. It also offers us the solution to our source of distress at Acts 24:15 and John 5:28,29. Please contact me if you would like to discuss this wonderful provision further.##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##

“ Hello ! Cooke's ! May I take this opportunity to express my condolences to u all. The bible shares something of encouragement at Ps.90 :10, some may lived to be 70 years and others because of special mightness 80 years, the what Ms. Jessie did. Ms. Jessie had a great smile. You can look forward to the time when no one will ever die at all and live on and on forever. The greatest news to hear. May you all be surrounded by your supportive family and friends, My fellow feeling, Lillian Crosby.##imported-begin##Lillian Crosby##imported-end##
