

Jessie Margaret Johnson

December 11, 1949 - December 14, 2008

Jessie Margaret Johnson, daughter of the late Jesse J. Williams and Reverend Mae Thomas, was born on December 11, 1949 in Oklahoma City. She departed this life on Sunday, December 14, 2008. She received her education at Edmondson High School in Baltimore, MD. Upon the completion of her education, she became a switchboard operator for yellow cabs. As time progressed, she switched companies to work for Chesapeake teleservices. She left after 20 years of dedicated services to become a state registered Geriatric Nurse. She loved to read her beloved novels and listen to R & B music, especially Patti LaBelle's "Somebody loves me baby," which could be heard throughout the house. Her festive and creative personality radiated throughout every holiday with Christmas being her favorite holiday. She decorated the whole house, even the bathroom for every holiday. But the most important thing in her life was her grandchildren, nieces and nephews. She preceded her loving companion John F. Hunt and two of her siblings, sister Beverly Travelers and brother Billie Dorris. She leaves to mourn, two daughters Theresa Dorris and Shelia Ogle; one son Anthony Bell Jr.; one son-in-law Charles Ogle; one sister Evelyn Dorris; one brother Herbert Dorris; ten grandchildren Recardo Jennings, Courtney Gaskins, Daveon Wheatley, Clarence Carroll Jr., Sheena Copeland, Anthony Bell III, Calvin Carroll, Shetia Ogle, Tyrese Bell, and Stephanie Ogle; two great grandchildren Khalil Basterfield, Zyonna Wheatley, the devoted friends of Mr. & Mrs. James Evans and family and her nieces, nephews, and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ Theresa, Sheila and Anthony I offer my condolences. Please believe me when I say I truly understand how you must feel. Since the viewing, I haven't thought of anything but the many times Margaret's family and mine spent together either in our homes or at the beach. Margaret stood with me when I married in '72 and she came when my husband past in '97. Its been years of little contact but with strong memories intact. She was a good mother and a good friend. May GOD in his infinite wisdom keep you safe as Margaret had until you all meet again.##imported-begin##Joyce Bernie Davis##imported-end##
