

John Anthony Streater

July 23, 1983 - September 5, 2001

JOHN ANTHONY STREATER, JR., son of John Anthony Streater, Sr. and Zina Williams, was born on July 23, 1983 in Baltimore, Maryland. Little Tony, Streater or Spliff, as he was known, departed this life suddenly on September 5, 2001. Little Tony was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System. Streater, as he was referred to while he hooped and mastered his love for basketball, played with many teams and leagues-Thurgood Marshall, Lake Clifton High School, BNBL, Herring Run and many others. Spliff, as he was referred to by his friends, also dreamed of someday becoming a rap artist and began recording his first of many songs to follow. Little Tony was a very loving and devoted son; grandson, brother; nephew and friend to all whom that were blessed with his presence and will be sincerely missed by all that knew him. Little Tony leaves to mourn: his father, John Anthony Streater Sr.; mother, Zina Williams' stepfather, Jerome Wellons; two grandmothers, Malvina Thompson and Ruby Griffin; grandfather, John Williams; four sisters, Shaneka Streater, Narkia Streater, Shalvina Johnson and Brianca Streater; four brothers, William Frisby, Justin Streater, Devonta Streater and Brandon Streater; one niece, Shakerra Richardson; one nephew, Shamaur Means; five aunts, Stephanie Thompson, Crystal Streater, Kim Griffin, Angela Eubanks (Dink) and Shantrice Griffin; four uncles, Stevie Thompson, Melvin Thompson, Bobby Griffin and Roderick Streater; and a host of other relatives and friends.
