In 1954, John met and fell in love with Bessie Lee Robinson, they were married in Darlington, South Carolina. Out of this union, they were blessed with seven beautiful daughters. They moved their family to Baltimore, Maryland.

John was employed as a Foreman for Whiting-Turner Construction for over thirty years. He retired from Whiting-Turner in 2002. He pridefully provided and protected his family. John enjoyed traveling and visiting with his family. He loved to dance, attending family gatherings, and he took pride in his job. Riding dad around Baltimore, he would always point out the buildings in Maryland, which he helped build during his employment with Whiting-Turner with a "sincere smile of satisfaction" and happiness.

Be sure that when you saw him, he was always nicely dressed and loved wearing his Stacy Adam Shoes. John enjoyed watching classic Westerns, playing cards and singing the Gambler, by Kenny Rogers, and watching Orioles baseball games during his downtime. Everyone could feel his playful
