

John W. Kelly

June 5, 1953 - August 31, 2007

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ John W. Kelly

October 13, 2022 at 08:33 AM

“ Please accept my sincere sympathy. Death is truly a painful event for the family and friends, and it's something no family should have to endure. God never desired this for us, and he has purposed to bring an end to sickness and death forever. Rev 21:4 tells us this, "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. "The former things have passed away." Then Acts 24:15 promises that there will be a resurrection for those sleeping in death, May the promise of the resurrection be a comforting hope for the family and friends of John.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM

“ To God be the Glory. I was truly blessed to have known John and to have been able to share space with him in this universe. Let's keep in mind that all of our walks are different and not to be judged. He was a person with a kind heart and always had a smile for me. A real jokester. John was God manifested as love. May the light of Johns' love shine through your every kindness. I feel blessed to have known John. Peace to you all! Kamau##imported-begin##Kamau Akinlabi##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM

“ Please accept my sincere sympathy for the family and friends of Mr.Kelly. Death is painful for those left behind but you can still be comforted by the Christian hope of the resurrection. Jesus states at John 11:25: "...I am the resurrection and the life. He that excercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life" Yes. We have the hope of seeing our loved ones again. That should move us to be grateful to the one that provided that blessing, Jehovah God, when he provided his Son, Christ Jesus as a ransom for mankind.##imported-begin##A. Robinson##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM