

Johnnie Mae Walker

November 23, 1929 - August 11, 2002

Johnnie Mae Walker, daughter of the late Carrie Hicks and Albert Chisolm, was born November 23, 1929 in Rockhill, South Carolina. She departed this life on August 11, 2002, after a lengthy illness. During her young years she joined Faith Baptist Church and later resided at Mount Pleasant. Johnnie Mae attended Dunbar High School. She then furthered her education at Ohio State University where she received her A.A. Degree. After completing her education Johnnie was employed by Johns Hopkins Hospital (for thirty-three years) until her health failed. Johnnie Mae bore a loving son, Bernard Davis, who was also known as B-B. After Bernard's birth, Johnnie Mae married George Walker. Johnnie Mae was a warm, outspoken and loving woman. She helped many and asked for little. She was a true friend and devoted family member. She made numerous friends and will be sincerely missed by all that knew her. Those left with precious memories of her life include: her loving son, Bernard Davis; daughter-in-law, Wanda Davis; granddaughter, Delita Wallace; two grandsons, Zergory and Brandon Crawley; three great grandchildren, Tiammara and Tehya Wallace and Victor Fernando Crawley; brother, Albert Mundy and sister-in-law, Mary Sue Mundy; a host of other relatives and friends.
