“ I offer my sincere condolences to the family at this most difficult time. Please accept my condolences and prayers. One day we won't have to ever experience the loss of a loved one again, because Jehovah promises that he will swallow up death forever, and certainly wipe the tears from all faces. Isn't that a wonderful promise from the God of all comfort? When Josephine and others of her age group come back to life again, they will not be old anymore, because god promises that he will restore their youthful vitality back to them. Today many elderly people go through various sicknesses, many times they need wheelchairs or canes just to get around, and many of them experience loneliness. But notice the wonderful promise of God in regard to the elderly. At Job 33:25 it says, "Let his flesh become fresher than in youth. "Let him return to the days of his youthful vigor." Isn't that beautiful? How do we know these things will really occur? Isaiah 65:17 gives us this assurance, For here I am creating new heavens and a new earth; and the former things will not be called to mind, neither will they come up into the heart." Heb 6:18 also reassures us when it says: "it is impossible for God to lie. So we can put all of our faith and trust in his promises. Won't it be wonderful to see the elderly ones young again; being able to run again, to throw away those canes and eyeglasses? I'm so looking forward to that great day of salvation. May you too be comforted by Jehovah's wonderful promises, because his word never fails.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
