

Juliette Lomax

September 7, 1924 - November 11, 2008

JUIELTTE LOMAX, daughter of the Leo and Pearl White, was born on September 7, 1924 in the Stat of Virginia. She departed this life on November 11, 2008. Arriving in Maryland early in life, Julie received her education in the Baltimore City Public School System. Following which, she decided to lead and enjoy the pleasures of a simple life. Loving people unconditionally was one of Julie's best qualities. She was not one to pick and choose her friends according to what they could or couldn't do for her, she felt just knowing her was reason enough. Julie could often be found baking one of her delicious pies or playing pinochle with relatives and close friends. Being a well-rounded person came naturally to her. She felt the idea of picking a single color as her favorite was too limited; and why should she, when she could love them all equally. If I had to choose one symbol in life to describe her, it would have to be a rainbow, for the rainbow represents love, unity and happiness for all mankind; and those are the exact things she lived by. This is a life that will truly be missed. She leaves to mourn: two nephews, John Lomax (whom she raised like a son) and Leo Perry; niece, Sherryl Gunnels-Perry; two brothers, Robert and William Lomax; a host of other relatives and friends.

“ I offer my warmest condolences to the family of Juliette. Death touches us like no other event in our lives, and we all long for an end to sickness and death. Will it come, is the question? Yes it will. This is what the Lord's prayer means when it says, "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth, just as it is in heaven. There is no sickness or death in heaven, so when God's will is done, then there will be no sickness or death on earth either. God created man to live, not to die, and one day soon, his marvelous purpose will come to pass. 1st Cor 15:26 promises, "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." In harmony with that thought, Isaiah 25:8 promises that Jehovah God will swallow up death forever, and when you swallow something, we know it's gone, likewise so will death be gone. These are not idle promises, because Jehovah always fulfilled his promises in the past, and being the loving, powerful father that he is, we can rest assured that he will fulfill his promises in the future. As Isaiah 55:11 say, "My word will not return to me without results, but it will have certain success for which I have sent it." May you find much comfort and strength from God's promises, which will be fulfilled through his son, Christ Jesus.
