“ All this week u and your son Brandon has been on my mind so heavily. So many years later and u are still missed. You probably had no idea how much u touched, help and inspired so many ppl including myself. There was no problem I could not call u with that u didn't have a solution for and it was like that for so many others u have helped while on this earth. Sometimes we take for granted having ppl like u in our corner until we no longer have them. And, only than do we realize how much u were a blessing and how much we love and now miss u. You wore so many hats and wore them so well. It would take forever for me to express my my gratitude and appreciation for the person you were. i appreciate everything u taught me. I'm using it til this day. I'm working on my second degree. I have launched several businesses one being a Crisis management Service. I fix peoples problems as well, professionally. Which would've never happened without u! So I'll end this conversation by saying. Now, that I am much older I see u prepared all of us for the day we would need u and U were gone. For that I am forever grateful. I still miss u so very much and my heart is still heavy til this very day.

“ My deepest condolences to your family, and my husband and I were saddend and shocked when we learned Miss Karen had passed away. While I only knew Miss Karen for a few years, when we met we instantly connected. Miss Karen would affectionatley call me the "Potatoe Salad Lady", and told me my potatoe salad was the best she ever tasted! She was especially proud of her son Brandon and she would talk about him in a proud mom kinda way. Miss Karen when out of her way last summer to visit my home to and speak and provide support to my husband. Miss Karen "shared her story" to my husband who had a tumor on the brain. I will never forget Miss Karen's cheery smile, impeccable spirit, and giving personality.

“ I am extremely sorry for your loss. I can not imagine the pain you have had to endure. May the God of comfort be with you now and in times to come. God's Word the bible promises the hope of seeing our dead loved ones again. That promise is at John 28,29 and also at Revelations 21: 3,4

“ Sorry for your loss. To lose a loved one is hard. Many have found the promise resurrection (Acts24:15) to be comforting. Resurrection is what the Lord Jesus did for Lazarus.-John 11:43-44. It is the Bible based hope of seeing Ms. Karen again. May this hope and your good memories bring you comfort.
