“ Plrsdr accept my condolences for your loss. Death is truly a heartbreaking event for the family to endure. We miss our loved ones so much when they pass away, and it's something so very difficult to accept. Very soon, Almighty God promises to erase this pain from our hearts, and bring about a time when sickness and death will be no more. 1st Cor.15:26 promises, "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." Jehovah God, our loving father in heaven has given his son Jesus the power to bring the dead back to life. One day they will hear his voice calling them back from the grave. John 5:28,29 says, "Donot marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." Then we will have the joy of being with our loved ones again, because we all have lost someone in death. May it comfort you to know that with God all these things will come true, because he is the God of truth. Heb.6:18. So continue to endure, and let your memories of your dear one bring a smile to your heart as we await the day of the ressurection.##imported-begin##R

“ Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. I too have lost loved ones in death. Even though we know that death is inevitable, it is still difficult to accept. Death was not something that God intended for us. The thought of death is always distasteful and it always will be because Jehovah God has created within us the keen desire to live forever. We never get used to it. We feel deep down in our hearts that this should not happen because, “Even time indefinite he (God) has put in their heart,” says Ecclesiastes 3:11. One of the wonderful parts of his plan is the hope of the resurrection of dead loved ones. (John 5:25, 28, 29). Please be assured that Jehovah God loves us and wants the best for us. Take comfort in the promise that he has given us at Rev. 21: 3-5 of a new earth where there will be no more death.##imported-begin##Senita Swann##imported-end##
