“ I met KJ through my son Vincent when he came home with him one weekend to SC from school. We clicked immediately, mainly because he was coughing. Not only did I go into straight momma mode, but also nurse mode. I think I gave him an entire lesson on germs, taking care of his lungs, asthma and then loaded him up on herbal teas. I told him, I was gonna get him straight and that he better keep taking care of his lungs.

He was such a well-mannered young man. He was literally my other son. I would check up on him to make sure his lungs were good and to get on him about not wearing his glasses. I nicknamed him, “my lil squint.” □ My family and I loved KJ. KJ and Vincent were like brothers always laughing about something.

All of our hearts are broken as I know so many of yours are too. KJ, you touched many lives. I’m so grateful Vincent and my family were some of those lives that you touched. □ 🍫💕

Love you always “my lil squint.”
