“ I send my deepest condolences for the loss of Lee. One day the bible promises that there will be no more sickness and death. The bible even says that even the memory of such pain will be gone, for Isaiah 65:17 says, "For here I am creating new heavens and a new earth; and the former things will not be called to mind, neither will they come up into the heart. "But rejoice you people in what I am creating. So dear family rejoice in the hope of the resurrection, because God has promises that our dead ones will come to life again. Acts 24:15, and John 5:28,29 May your precious memories of Lee bring joy to your hearts as you await the glorious day when you can see him again.##imported-begin##Rita Johnson##imported-end##

“ To the family and friends, I offer my condolences. It truly is unfortunate that we must experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. May you find comfort and strength from the "God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4) who promises at Isaiah 66:13, "Like a man whom his own mother keeps comforting, so I myself shall keep comforting you people."##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##
