

Lee Gould Jr.

December 14, 1932 - February 12, 2017

Lee Gould, Jr. was born to the late Lee Gould, Sr. and Charlie Jane Chapman, on December 14, 1932, in Rockingham, NC. he was the husband of June B. Gould. They were married on October 14, 1956 and were joined in matrimony for sixty years. On February 12, 2017, God sent an angel to deliver him home to glory. He was loved and respected by all.

Lee completed his education in Ashley Chapel Grammar School and Leake Street High School leaving the school system early to support his family after the death of his father.

He worked at Stafford Textile Mill in Rockingham. He learned at an early age from his mother the importance of entrepreneurship. Even though he kept a full time job, he operated two clubs in Rockingham. Once he relocated to Baltimore, MD, he worked for the International Longshoreman's Association (ILA), where he reached the position of foreman. After 30+ years of service he retired from ILA and continued his entrepreneurship.

Lee was affectionately called Junior, Fat Man and the "Godfather" by a lot of his closest friends. If you were ever in need, he was there, whether it was financial, voice of reason or moral support. He only had one biological child, Laura Thorn, but he was a father or grandfather figure to many of his family and friends, especially his nephew, Michael Donnell Gould and his children.

He was preceded in death by his siblings, James, Mary, William, Clarence, Robert White, Robert Ingram and Thomasina.

Lee Gould, Jr. is survived by his wife, June; daughter, Laura Thorn Dailey (Theodor); brother, Don Gould (Miriam); two sisters, Betty Holloway (Roy) and Pamela Chapman (Milton); sister-in-law, Saphronia (James); grandson, Eric Brown; two granddaughters, Iris Brown and Tiffany Sayles (Delvin); five great-grandsons, Alexander Brown, Joseph Brown, Delvin Sayles, Jr., Zaki Smith, Micah Sayles; one great-great grandson, Alexander Brown, Jr., a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.
