

Leslie D. Shields

December 27, 1953 - April 10, 2019

Leslie Denise Shields was born in Baltimore on December 27, 1953. She was baptized at St. Pius V in 1954 and later expressed faith in Jesus Christ. Her parents, the late John and Ramona Shields, adored her.

Leslie was educated in Baltimore City Public schools, graduating from Douglass High School in 1972.

She worked for 31 years for the Maryland State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene and in 2006 received a Governor's Citation in appreciation of her outstanding service.

She and her mother shared a home together and were best buddies. They were members of St. Ambrose Roman Catholic Church where Leslie served as a lector. They also enjoyed watching the Ravens play ball, having friends over to eat crabs, and going to movies together.

Her dad had passed in 2004 and when her mother's health began to fail, Leslie was very pleased to be her caregiver. Following her mother's death, Leslie earned her certification and worked as a caregiver in a group home until her health prevented it. She became very attached to her clients and will be sorely missed.

She leaves to mourn one aunt, Doris Dorsey; friend, Margaret Dorsey; cousins, James R. Dorsey (Elizabeth); Margaret D. Pagan (Carl); Maurice Dorsey; Cheryl Dorsey; David Ford (Darlene); Mark Dorsey; Brian Dorsey (Wanda); Eric Dorsey (Heather); Duane Haley (Rachel); and Carla Pagan.

“ Leslie was my dear cousin, she was one of the most kind hearted and generous people I knew. She was a great writer and poet. She had a great sense of humor and a big laugh and smile whenever you saw her. She was extremely kind and loving to her mother, my aunt Romona who told me she loved me at a time in my life it was very important. They were a great mother and daughter team.
