

Lloyd Johnson

November 22, 1933 - August 26, 2023

LLOYD JOHNSON was born on November 22, 1933, in Littleton, North Carolina to the late Martha Ann Johnson and Walter Johnson.

Lloyd attended Dunbar Elementary School until moving to Baltimore in 1940. Lloyd felt a divine call for a higher claim at the age of 12 and was baptized at Faith Baptist Church. Lloyd met and married Ruth Marshal and they honored and cherished each other for sixty years.

Lloyd was a hardworking man. One thing about Lloyd, he enjoyed the fancy cars. His passion was washing his car every Saturday morning and being part of the usher board at Faith Baptist Church. At the age of fifteen in the summer he worked at the longshoreman waterfront. Lloyd was a dedicated worker for Bethlehem Steel Shipyard as a First-Class Welder for 30 years from which he retired.

He was preceded in death by his wife Ruth Johnson, three children Debra, Lloyd Jr., and Angelo Johnson, two stepchildren Linda Marshal and Charlene Williams, and siblings Helena and Celestine Johnson.

Lloyd leaves to cherish his memory: two daughters, Yvette and Darlene Johnson; one son, Cedric Johnson; one stepchild, Sylvia Connors; his sister, Elvee Belon; twenty-four grandchildren, a host of great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, and others who loved and adored him.
