

Lloyd M. Perry

February 19, 1936 - July 4, 2012

LLOYD MAYNARD PERRY, was born on February 19, 1936 in Enfield, North Carolina. Lloyd was the youngest son of the late George R. Perry and Bertha M. Knight. After a three year battle with Alzheimer's disease, which was complicated by a stroke, he quietly departed this life and went into eternal peace and rest on July 4, 2012.

He received his education in the Baltimore City Public School System and graduated from Paul Lawrence Dunbar High School in 1955 and was honored with a perfect attendance record. After high school he joined the United States Navy Reserve and attended Coppin State Teacher's College, where he studied Early Childhood Education. However, his intelligence led him in other directions, such as: working for a law firm, a cook, working for the Catholic Archdiocese in Washington, D.C. and finally for UPS in Virginia.

Lloyd was introduced to his religious training through Sunday school at the Zion Baptist Church and was baptized there at an early age. Later in the late 1950's, he converted to Catholicism and remained faithful to the Lord until his passing.

He enjoyed being available to his family and friends by lending a helpful hand. He really liked to travel to Canada and Pennsylvania, participating with his club members, "The Shipmates." He often spoke of his good friends and associates at UPS. Everyone who knew him was aware that he enjoyed cooking, especially desserts.

Lloyd leaves to cherish his memory; his devoted sister, Harriet Perry-Whitt; nieces, Kyla M. Whitt and Maria Perry-Smith; nephews, Kyle M. Whitt and Harold Smith; great nephew, Giles Perry Smith; sister-in-law, Elva Perry; along with a host of other relatives and friends. He also had a special fondness for Connie Winston, an extended family friend; and Ray Link, his good friend and co-worker.

Our family chain has broken,
And nothing will be the same.
But as God calls us one by one,
The chain will link again.
