“ I wish to extend condolences to the family of Lois on this sad and difficult time in your lives. I understand your pain, because I too have lost many loved ones, and it's truly the most difficult thing to have to deal with. Did God want this pain for his earthly childre? Not according to what's recorded in his word. The scriptures show that God desires everlasiting life, not death for us, and he promises at Isaiah 25,8 that he will swallow up death forever, and certainly wipe the tears from all faces. Also 1st Cor 15:26 makes this promise: "As the last enemy, death is to be brought to nothing." As for the dead, the bible holds out the hope of the ressurection. Jehovah has made this provision possible through his son, Christ Jesus. At John 11:25 Jesus said, "I am the resssurrection and the life. "Everyone exercising faith in me even though he dies, will come to life." I pray that you find much comfort from the scriptures, and may you cope by reflecting on your precious memories of Lois that you shared with her over the years. Please contact me on my e-mail so I can share God"s purpose with you more in depth. Take care.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

“ Sharon, You have my heartfelt sympathy in the loss of your Mother. Having gone down this road before I can truly say I "know" what you are feeling. Just put your trust in God and know that he won't put no more on you than you can bear. Even in your sadness, may you find comfort in knowing that the angels must be smiling because your loved one is among them now. Peace and blessings.
