

Louis Delano Jenkins

September 6, 1947 - May 15, 2002

Louis D. Jenkins adored and beloved son of the late Walter and Eleanor Jenkins rose on September 6, 1947 and descended on May 15, 2002, after a valiant effort to maintain his health. Louis, who was also known as “Lou” by many, was born and raised in Sandy Bottom, Towson, Maryland before moving to Baltimore City in the early fifties. He was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System and was an accomplished home improvement general contractor. We will always remember Louis ability to always keep you laughing. Even in his sickness, he always could find something funny to say to keep you in stitches. Growing up and well into manhood, Louis had the unique ability to make and maintain everlasting friendships. Many of his childhood and teenage friends and relatives are here today, and they all have a Louis story to tell. He was a great storyteller and could make up a story about any and everything. Just remember your favorite Louis story and tell it to someone else. This will keep his spirit alive, and that way he will only leave us in the flesh, but not in the spirit, heart and soul. Throughout the years, Louis and Barbara (Arnechia’s parents) had a unique bond of admiration, respect and love for each other that will always remain with them. He leaves to mourn: two daughters, Arnechia Warren and Kimberly Rice; one son, Martin Louis Jenkins; two sisters, Lola Jenkins-Reid and Helease Jenkins; three brothers, Walter B. Jenkins Sr., William A. Jenkins and Gregory P. Jenkins;(one sister, Frances Jenkins and one brother, Gary Jenkins preceded him in death), seven grandchildren, Keosha Manns, Jamar Williams, Bianca Williams,

Hilliard Williams, Alisha Jenkins, Kelvin Hussey and Destiny Vaughn; two great grandchildren, Dangelo Manns and Diasia Manns; one son-in-law, Gary Warren and Steven Gilbert (his adopted son who chose him as a Daddy); and a host of other relatives and friendsL-is for the Life that his strong parents gave to himI-is for the Inspiration that he gave to othersF-is for Fighter that he wasE-is for Everlasting memories and the eternal strength he endured (our brother)
