

Lucretia Y. Diggs

April 10, 1955 - August 11, 2004

Lucretia Yvette Diggs, the first of five children, born on April 10, 1955 to the late George Augustus Diggs and the late Clara Diggs, departed this earthly life on August 11, 2004 in Baltimore, Maryland after a bout with a long illness. She followed in passing her mother, Clara Lopez Diggs. Chris, as she was called by all of her friends, received her high school education from Northern High School, which was followed by her education at Baltimore Community College, where she specialized in Real Estate and in General Undergraduate Studies. She worked for thirty years as an Administrative Assistant through various staffing agencies and was active in organizations such as Marylanders of the Right to Choose, the Congressional Black Caucus, and other diversity-oriented and human rights-oriented political organizations and other organizations, which are active on the local level. Her hobbies of jewelry making, cosmetology and her gift of semantic humor will be sorely missed by the world she leaves behind. With great sorrow and broken spirit, the family, consisting of Sean Jordan, the only son; four brothers, Reginald, Vaughn, George and Michael; a true friend and confidant (from here until the Next World) Trudy McNair; and stepfather, Joshua Harkless are left to mourn and cherish her memory. May her soul be sealed in the Bonds of Life for now and for all eternity. Her contagious and warm sense of humor, as those who know can testify, will be deeply missed. May the Creator have mercy on their souls and memories.

“ My deepest sympathy during your time of sorrow but knows that the God of comfort is with you all during this time of tribulation. (2Corinthian 1:3-4) Due to the many unforeseen occurrences that brings tragedy to our lives Jehovah God promises one day soon Death will be no more (Rev 21:3-4) and his son have been given the authority to bring all those in the memorial tombs back to life. John 5:28-29 What a wonderful prospect for our future.##imported-begin##Carter##imported-end##
