“ I will always remember and be thankful for Lu being there when I started my first professional position at UMBC back in 2005. She was my first point of contact and was so patient with my phones calls about my start date. She always had my back and shared her wisdom with me. Navigating situations and people on campus was a lot less scary with Lu around. She was a pleasure to work with and even after I left the university, she stayed in touch. Coming back to visit won't be the same without her. My condolences to her family.

“ I will so miss Lu. I first met her in the 1980's when she was working for the Maryland State Scholarship Board as the assistant to the executive director. I was in my 20's and representing our president on the board. Flash forward the 1990's -- Lu and I worked together for 6 years at MHEC in Annapolis. Flash forward again to 2014 and Lu and I were together again at UMBC.

Lu's warmth, her "down to earth" - ness and her awesome, sometimes sassy sense of humor made work a good place to be. She befriended us all and shared in our triumphs and tragedies, both professional and personal.

“ Lu was a sweet and caring person. She always would take time for her friends and co-workers. She loved her family and always would share memories of them. At work I always liked to see Lu come in and just take time to talk. She had such a positive outlook on life. She always would smile and laugh and make our work place better just by being there. Lu would always take time for others and she was like family. She would share her opinions with you and give great advice. She was a strong woman and someone many people thought of as a friend. We will miss Lu and there will be a void in our office. I am sure that we will always take time to share many memories of our friend Lu.

I met Lu years ago when I did hair at Reisterstown Plaza. She was a faithful client/friend. We would laugh, joke and cutup about all sorts of stuff; she was a sweetheart.....I later came to work at UMBC and we began cutting up again. All the trainings and meetings; our facial expressions.

She loved her family as well as my girls!!!! Praying for the family that God will strengthen you, keep you and give you a peace that surpasses all understanding.....she will be missed dearly.
