

Lynette T. Jenkins

May 18, 1959 - June 17, 2024

LYNNETTE TERESA JENKINS was born to Maceo and Mae Jenkins Monday, May 18, 1959 in Baltimore, Maryland. She departed to her eternal resting place on Monday, June 17, 2024. Lynnette was the 2nd born to Mae Staten, she had an older brother, Tyrone Harris and a younger brother, Ellis Staten Jr.

“Net-Net” or “Mary”, as she was affectionately called by family and friends, attended Winston Elementary School and Woodbourne Junior High School. Lynnette went on to attend Western Senior High School, where she graduated top 10% of her class in 1977. Being the strong willed and determined person she was, she continued her education at Community College where she obtained an associate’s degree in Nursing. She then began a long and dutiful career as a registered nurse at various Baltimore City hospitals. At the time of her death, she was a Registered Nurse at Union Memorial.

Lynnette loved her sports teams! Often you could find her on her off evenings screaming and clapping for the Los Angeles Lakers and the Dallas Cowboys through the TV! She loved eating crabs (they better not be small) and enjoying her Bud Ice beer!

If you knew Lynnette, then you know, just like her mother, that her hair was done. It was a ritual to be at the salon every Wednesday at 9am sharp! There was nothing that was going to keep her from that appointment. In her younger years, she and her mother would often take several bus trips a year to outlets, casinos and her favorite place, Atlantic City. She really had a love for travel.

Lynnette was preceded in death by her brother Tyrone Harris and her mother Mae Staten. Lynnette is survived by: her brother, Ellis Leon Staten Jr.; sister-in-law, Rhonda Staten; two nieces, Ashley and Alyxis Staten; one nephew, Rishaun Mattison; and one great-niece, Tatum Ghee. She also leaves to mourn a host of family, friends and co-workers
