

Mable Lee Bell

April 2, 1939 - May 5, 2021

MABLE LEE BELL was born on April 2, 1939 in Gaston, North Carolina to the late Lucy Powell. She departed this life on May 5, 2021 after a long illness. The Lord decided that Mable had suffered long enough and peacefully took her into His arms of comfort.

Mable received her education in the Garysbury Public School System. She proclaimed her faith in the Lord and was baptized at Cool Spring Baptist Church in Gaston, North Carolina. She worked at the Catholic Charities as a housekeeper with her cousin Rose, where she met the love of her life, Leroy Bell Sr., who was a chauffeur at the time. As time developed Mable and Leroy became inseparable and married a short time later.

Mable began working as a beautician at the Pickwick Hair Salon where she made many friends in the Jewish community. She had the gift of bringing out the beauty in others. Mable was a natural beauty inside and out. She is the definition of class and grace.

She was a faithful and dedicated member of Cornerstone Baptist Church for many years. She was a true servant of the Lord. She loved and enjoyed her duty as an usher and worked hard supporting programs and activities at the church.

Mable had a passion for traveling. She traveled with her church family and enjoyed pleasure trips with her family and friends. She traveled to various places like Mexico, Florida, and back to her hometown for re-unions. She always brought back souvenirs from wherever she went. She had a collection of magnets on her fridge. She also loved to cook and bake. Everyone loved her famous pound cake.

Mable Bell was an angel on Earth. A woman who lived for God, her family, and strangers. She always opened her home to everyone in the family. She hosted family dinners, offered a place to sleep, and gave to those in need in the neighborhood. As a loyal member of the church, she carried the same attitude in the church as she did outside the church. She touched everyone with her humble, sweet, and caring spirit. She had a heart of gold.

Mable was preceded in paradise by her son Leroy Bell Jr., and her brother Johnnie Lee Brown.

Mable leaves to cherish her memory: her husband, Leroy Bell Sr.; her children, Tony Brown, Janet Bell, and Charlene Bell; seven grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren. She also leaves her sisters-in-law, Mildred Oakley, Evaline Evans; brothers-in-law, Alvin Bell and Daniel Bell; her closest cousin, Rose Mason; her goddaughter, Shante Washington; nieces, nephews, friends and other relative “ Mrs. Mable...

You were a 2nd mother to me. I looked forward to walking in my 2nd home and seeing your freshly baked chocolate cake in the center of the table. I enjoyed our conversations as I sat on the porch waiting for Janet/Charlene. Your warm smile and pleasant demeanor will truly be missed. Rest in Paradise.... ❤️ Leatrice

“ Strawberries & Sugar

*The sound of chirping birds & wind chimes
brings about fits of nostalgia*

the aroma of morning dew conjures visions of your smile I smile back reminiscing

of moments spent in the garden in amazement of your green thumb euphoric & magical in its placement of plants that you water with great care & love I remember those heart-shaped berries

that you hand me as I perch at the table, my May, my Grandma, my Mable

I googled your name & "LOVABLE" was its meaning which describes you to a tee,

patient, kind, forever on my mind a kindred spirit to me a comforting aura of love & light through & through you are not only an inspiration but my salvation too.

Grandma Mable, I love you.

You fought a long hard fight my sweet, kind and gentle cousin. I will always be grateful for the time and gentle care you gave my Mom Levola before she passed. She looked forward to the hair washes. We love, appreciated and will miss you very much. It is your time to rest peacefully in his arms. God has you now. Lovingly submitted, first cousin.
