

Maggie Ruth Richardson

October 23, 1946 - March 28, 2016

Maggie Ruth Richardson, the beloved daughter of the late Rev. Joe Richardson and the late Maybelle Richardson, was born October 23, 1946 in Sumter, South Carolina. She departed this life March 28, 2016 after a two week battle with acute liver failure.

Maggie graduated from Lincoln High School in Sumter, South Carolina in 1964. She moved to Baltimore, MD in the late 1960s and earned an Associates Degree from Baltimore City Community College while working as a cabinet maker for Conrad Protzman Industries and Thompson Industries. After retiring she volunteered her time at Maryland Veterans Hospital and at Oliver Senior Center.

Maggie's interest included reading, spending time with loved ones, and giving of her time to help others; this being exemplified by her acts of helping the elderly in the final years of her life. She loved to laugh often and travel. Maggie was blessed and proud of the fact that she saw her son graduate from high school and college, and attend her grandson's high school graduation in Houston, Texas in 2014.

Maggie was preceded in death by her mother and father, brother David Richardson, Sr., and sister Earlene Richardson.

She leaves to cherish her memory; son, Brian Leon Richardson; grandson, Ernest Richardson; daughter-in-law, Marian Bonner Richardson; sisters, Dorothy "Dot" Richardson , Nora Wright , Tena Richardson; brother, Joe Richardson, Jr.; brother-in-law, Herbert Wright; sister-in-law, Frances Richardson; nieces, Pamela Bullock, Olivia Richardson, Shannon Padgett, Karis Padgett; nephews, Al Wright, Curtis Wright, Rodney Richardson, David Richardson, Jr., Craig Crouell, Jr.; step-sister Jessie Cooper, Maggie Harden; step-brother, Robert Addison; great-nephews, great-nieces and a host of of cousins, other relatives, and friends.
