June 5, 1929 - October 1, 2002

Manuel Green was born on June 5, 1929 to the late Emma Jones and Joseph Green in Baltimore, Maryland. He was one of fourteen children. Manuel received his education in the Baltimore City Public School System. As a young man, he went to work for Wallace and Gail roofing company and worked there until he retired. Manuel enjoyed sports, playing his lottery, fixing his famous bread pudding for his grandchildren and spending time with his family, all of which he did until his health limited his activities. In June of 1951, Manuel married Zeolia Mae Hughley and of this union they raised one child, Jo Ann Green. He also leaves to cherish his memory a younger daughter, Bernadette Smith. Manuel was happily married to and was preceded in death by Zeolia in 1988. Manuel, who was also known as "Poppy" or "Mickey," was one of the kindest people. He would help anyone no matter how he was feeling and would give you his last if he knew it would help you out. He will be greatly missed by everyone. Manuel Green departed his life on October 1, 2002 after a lengthy illness.
