Selfish in our desire to have you here instead of there We are only to close our eyes and open our hearts to find that you are still here. Never again shall we be in your physical presence But forever filled with love and admiration of our remembrance Of your undying love and devotion for family until the end. We will not say goodbye because we expect to see you again. Love You Much Your Children A.K.A. Your "Bestest" Friends

I always felt like one of the family especially when 'your girl and your baby' came into the picture. You had a special way of making everyone feel special. You are in our hearts always and forever. Pamela's job seems to be to correct anyone who does not get your quote just right. Many times she let's us know "No, Grandma Margaret say 'gone kid'". “ My MaMargaret always had a smile on her face. I think she was amused at how very silly people could be. Whenever I walked into a room she was in I always received a "Hi Baby" and a big hug. Once a very long time ago MaMargaret assured me that she not only liked me but loved me. I can only hope that she felt and knew how much I cared for and loved her back. “ Shorty, I don't think that I will ever get over this. It is affecting me in more ways than I could have ever imagined. Everything in life that used to mean something no longer does. I am still in a daze. One day I will wake up from this horrible dream to realize that it was just that... A DREAM!!! The pain cuts deep and it is extremely hard to bare. I don't cry, but I can see the effects of your absence. Just look out for me to make sure that I don't do anything stupid. You know that I can be a hot head at times. You made me feel loved by you and special to you the very 1st time we met. I'd never met anyone else in my lifetime who claimed me as their daughter and I felt truly honored to have been. Your children whom I've had the honor of knowing are truly wonderful and loving but that shouldn't be of no surprise to anyone because after all they are of your seed. “ Hey Shorty, Writing to you helps lessen the pain of your absence. I never realized how much I would miss the hug you gave me when I came home from work. I would give anything to have you wake me up in the morning. And we both know how much I disliked that. (: Nothing and no one will ever be able to fill the void your absence has created. I miss the talks and arguments. Most of all I miss you. Writing this I'm tearing up. Whew... I have never felt a pain like this and hope never to again. I try to find comfort in the fact that you are watching over me. It helps but I am riding an emotional roller coaster. I hide my pain pretty well. But if people look closely, they can see the agony that I deal with daily. I tried to watch a video of you and could not do it. Hopefully, one day the pain will be lessened. But at this point, I can honestly say that I am not doing well. Luv ya much.##imported-begin##Me##imported-end##

“ I am so blessed to have had the experience of being your granddaughter. Only God knows how much the phone calls, the advice, and the laughter meant to me! Each morning as I take my daily run in the park (in your "little" jogging pants that were given to me)...I often sit and meditate, as I watch the sun rise, ...how peaceful life can be here on earth...but also waiting to embrace the peace that God has given to YOU! Oh, how lovely your place of rest must beI will always cherish the view of the mountains, the green grass, and the other peaceful surroundings in which you were placed!!! As your spirit jogs with me every morning... I must continue to thank YOU for helping me endure the race! I love YOU "shorty"!###imported-begin##Chauntelle T. Langston##imported-end##

(smile) We had a great Easter, but it was not the same without the matriarch of the family. It is good that we can laugh and smile at the great times that we enjoyed with you. Even when you were in the hospital. The nurses and doctors were impressed by the laughter that came from your room during such an awful time. Well, I have to go now. Love you and miss you. “ Hey Ma, Writing to you seems to fill the emptiness that I feel not being able to talk to you. I am going to start writing again. I will start with poems, then books, etc. But you know that all of this will resume when I complete school. I wanted so much to give you my diploma. Because without your constant encouragement, I don't think that I would have gotten through it. It is your death that drives me even harder to accomplish the things that we had planned. I still feel as though I have to hold up my end of the bargain. I don't ever want to feel as though I have failed you. I was with you to the end. I find some comfort in that. But I still have to this feeling deep within that if I had done something you would still be here. It is something that I have to resolve within myself. Well, I have to go. Talk to you soon. “ Hi Mom, Your death has been weighing heavily on my heart and mind lately. Do you know that I can't even speak to the fact that you are dead? I think if I speak the words that somehow I will lose you forever. I don't believe that it has really set in yet. This month will make 4 months. Whew.... Time is flying by, but the pain still remains. I knew that you were a major part of my life, but never realized just how major. I used to always get on your case about not knowing what you wanted. (: But now I understand. Oh do I ever. When you put your wants on hold and concentrate on the wants and needs of others it is easy to neglect yourself. I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for all of the sacrifices that you have made to insure that I had all of my wants and needs met. If there ever was a perfect mother, shorty you were it. I knew that I was blessed, but the LORD really did it when he blessed me with a mother like you. Don't worry, I will be just fine. You did a great job. You may not have possessed great physical strength, but you showed me how to be mentally strong. And for that I will be forever grateful. Okay, I know that you thought you were physically stronger than me. Remember you use to punch me all the time. You also use to tell me that I did not know who I was messing with. (: I really miss your daily hugs. When I would come home from work and you would put your head in my chest and say that you missed me. Tears are starting to pour down my face so I better say so long. Remember you never like the word "goodbye". Love Tab (:###imported-begin##Your Son###imported-end##

“ Mom, I know you hated some of the things I did. Like when I'd walk in the door and pat you on the top of your head, the way I called you "Maggie" and then you'd tell me you were my mother and that was your name. The way your called me every morning over and over again until I finally got out of bed. After all the things that you hated about me! “ Hi Shorty.....I know... your name is Mom and I'd better get it straight. I miss you more than words can say. Thanks for being the best mother-in-law any girl could ever dream of. Mom from the first time I spoke with you on the phone I felt the warmth and love until the day you left me. I will always miss you. We had some fun times, I'm so sorry you didn't get a chance to see our new home. We are going to pick out a tree to plant in memory of you. Mom I don't question your death because I know that God needed you more than us. I guess I thought you'd always be here. This is just so unreal. I'm sure heaven is smiling because they have gained another angel. I still reach for the phone to call you and catch myself. Sorry it took me so long to write to you but I just couldn't bring myself to do it. I'm sitting here with tear filled eyes trying to finish this. We had a nice Easter but you were missed so much by all that we simply avoided telling each other. We tried to laugh at some of the old times we had with you, but there was a very noticable void in our hearts. Sounds like we need to develop a website for you.. call it "Shorty's Place" or "Mom's House"? I can hear to say "Baby". I think I have heard you say that word more than any other word. “ Hey Mom, Guess what day it is? Yup, it's my birthday. Shorty, I really miss not having you here. I could always count on 2 cards from you. That would be the highlight of my day. I am 37 years of age today. I don't feel any different. Oh well, keep looking out for me. Love ya. Tab###imported-begin##Happy Birthday to Me###imported-end##

“ Hey Mom, I feel so close to you. It feels as though a part of your spirit has been absorbed by each of your children. I just want to thank you for being the mother that you were. I miss you and will see you soon. Tab###imported-begin##Your Son###imported-end##

“ Hey Shorty, What's going on? Keeping the LORD busy I'm guessing. (smile) All is well here, but you already know that. I found an old picture of you and I that I am going to have enlarged and framed. It will be really nice. It was good talking to you. I will talk to you soon. Later.
