“ To the family...

No words can ease the pain of losing Mario at such a young age. Know that his spirit has transcended this earth and now rests in a realm where there is no pain, no conflict, no confusion. Mario knew with conviction his family loved him unconditionally because through every milestone in his life his family stood with him... shoulder to shoulder. And when Mario grew weary... the family carried him.

Mario's light lives on in every cell of every each member. When you gaze in the mirror... looking back at you is him. So smile because there are memories that will keep his energy alive.

I send my prayers of strength and condolence in hopes that each of you will find comfort from God in knowing your hearts that are overflowing with grief will eventually find its way through this darkness and into the light.
