“ To the family of Marion Otelia Bert:

Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. Death is the enemy of all mankind, yet when it touches us personally, few seek the comfort they search for. The doctrines that are taught concerning death find their origins from men and not the Bible. As a result, they fail to leave those who are grieving with comfort or a hope. They do however, leave many with unanswered questions. The response that "God works in mysterious ways" or that "God needed another angel", does not satisfy the spiritual needs of those who are grieving. However, many have found comfort in the pages of God's word the Bible (2 Corinthians 1:3, 4). In God's word we find the promise that we can be reunited with our loved ones (John 5:28,29; Acts 24:15). The Bible tells us where this happy reunion will take place (Psalm 37: 11, 29; Matthew 5:5). We are told why we die (Genesis 3:17-19; Romans 5:12), and that the God of the Bible will end death forever (Isaiah 25:8; Revelation 21:3,4). Learning the truth about Jehovah, the God of the Bible (Psalm 83:18), God's Kingdom (Daniel 2:44), and the state of those who have died (Ecclesiastes 9:5), is the start to finding true comfort concerning loved ones who are sleeping in death (John 11:11-14; John 8:32). “ With God, every day is a day to hope for the very best, to believe our prayers are being heard, to believe good news is on its way, and that anything can happen between yesterday and tomorrow. You are in my heart and prayers.

Love Aunt Mima and Family.

“ In these troubled times, we all fact storms. Please accept my deepest condolences concerning the death of your dear loved one. There are economic hardships, depression, failing health, the loss of a loved one in death-such tempests affect all of us at one time or another, and we cannot avoid them. It does move us to see persons who appear quite frail show surprising strength to take on such things. One of the keys to this is faith (James 1:3) and another key is hope (1 Thessalonians 4:13) and there is the hope of the resurrection (John 5: 28, 29; Acts 24:15). This knowledge gives us hope, and that hope in turn, gradually softens grief. It helps us to endure. You can find more encouraging Scriptures at www.jw.org. May God continue to comfort your family in this stressful time of need.
