

Markee L. Brown

May 9, 1996 - April 19, 2016

Today we lay to rest Markee Lakim Brown, the son of Catrina Taylor and Shawnwin Brown. He was born on May 9, 1996 in Baltimore, MD.

He was always pursuing ways to become a better man. He attended Baltimore City Public Schools and was in the process of acquiring his GED with the State of Maryland. He held various jobs. He worked for Morgan State University, Coppin State University and Café Hun as a Prep Cook. He eventually found a home with the State Highway Administration of Maryland as a laborer.

Markee loved to dance, watch movies, hang with his friends and was known to joke around to keep the people he loved laughing and having fun.

He leaves to mourn his loving mother, Catrina Taylor; father, Shawnwin Brown; two siblings, sister, Lamore Matthews and brother, Jalin Taylor; two grandmothers, Tammy Johnson and Linda Wolfe and a host of family and friends.

Markee loved his family and he established strong relationships with his late uncle, Ronald Smith and uncle, Albert Harris and many cousins and family members.

“ Ms. Charlotte and I visited this morning. I remember Markee very well from Learning Inc. Mostly what I remember is that he was a well-behaved quiet boy, great buddies with Reggie, often had a twinkle in his eyes, and a quiet sense of humor. Seeing him this morning - so very very sad. I am so sorry for the loss and grief that you all must feel.

“ May the Lord continue to bless your family at this time. May the Lord keep them safe from harm and guide them at this time. Markee your mom and your family will miss the laughter the good times and the sad times. In the end, it is between you and God. Markee I know you are away from harm and the Lord will protect your family so sleep on. Memories is something no one take away. Peace be with you and your family.
