

Mary Elizabeth Neal

March 6, 1953 - March 11, 2016

Mary Elizabeth Neal was born March 6, 1953, in Portsmouth, Virginia to the late Maggie Harris and Wesley Neal. She was raised by her grandmother, the late Elizabeth Turner, and her sister, the late Maggie White. Mary's family traveled a lot , during her childhood. However, she spent most of her childhood in Cincinnati, Ohio, and attended the Cincinnati Public Schools.

Mary E. Neal met her significant other, Anthony Charles Tolliver, in Cincinnati, Ohio, and gave birth to two children: Jeffrey Neal and Tonie Tolliver. She later relocated to Richmond and gave birth to another son, Walter Neal.

Mary Neal worked 30 years for Richmond Public Schools in the Food Service Department. She also established her own cleaning service, Mary E. Neal Housecleaning.

Mary Neal attended several churches before settling on Woodville Church of the Nazarene, at the invitation of the late Sister Louise Snead. Mary joined Woodville Church in the late 1980's under the leadership of the former Pastor Roland Chopfield, and continued under the leadership of Rev Charles Tillman since February of 2003. Sister Neal sang in the choir, served on the Usher Board and was Pulpit Nurse to Pastor Tillman, where she proudly prepared his tea, water and mints on Sunday morning. More than anything, Sister Neal loved the Lord and would always lend a hand to help her "brothers and sisters" in the Lord.

Mary Neal leaves to mourn her 3 children, 9 great- grandchildren, aunts, uncles and a host of cousins. She will be greatly missed by her family and church family alike.

Damn I couldn't believe you really wrote something My bad I kinda carried you when you responded to me telling you she was dead. But anyway you remember your phrsse. Family is who you make it not who made you. When both of your parents are alive you can say that shit. But when they gone you really got to live that shit. And this situation plays out different for everyone... And you loose more life than what you thought, shit that you over look you look at now shit you look at one way you look at different later. people true colors come out. And then you become cold and bitter with chips on you sholder. I had to realize something life is life life is pain life is pleasure and we have to embrace it one way or another so when death come you have to embrace that shit understand it it's life and you can't run from it rather it's you or someone else. So when this shit come your way stick your chest out and hold you chin up because what in your life needs you you can't turn it off you can't tell it hold on you have to stay focus and keep moving like you won something. It's alot of word play here but I think you understand, 🙌👉

“ You have my deepest sympathies for your loss, the sting of death is most painful. It's saddening we have to lose loved ones all the time, and that's because we've inherited sin (Romans 5:12) but we've received a great gift that gives us a future and a hope (Romans 6:23).

“ Mrs. Mary was like a mother to me. She welcomed me into her home and her church without judging me once. She had the sweetest heart, and was truly a women of God. My heart is so heavy right now but I thank God for allowing me to meet her and share the time that we did. God needed an angel. So rest in paradise Mrs. Mary . I love you! I will continue to pray for her family and friends.

“ We send our condolences to the family. Please remember Psa. 46:1 where it says: God is our refuge and strength a help readily found in times of distress. May you lean upon Him and his word at this time.
