Maurice Irvin Johns Jr., son of Jean Heath and Maurice Irvin Johns Sr., was born on August 13, 1971. He departed this life suddenly on Tuesday, July 15, 2003. Maurice received his education in Baltimore City Public Schools. Maurice was employed a short time with Leonard Jeds Tool Company, where he looked forward to going to work everyday. Maurice also known as "Bo-Bo" loved himself some football. Bo-Bo was a number one die-hard Dallas cowboy's fan. Bo-Bo loved spending time with his son making him laugh. Bo-Bo enjoyed riding his new scooter. Bo-Bo was also a very affectionate and loving husband and father to his children. Maurice leaves to mourn, his loving wife, Tonya Johns; three children, Rachel, Malik, and Sade; mother, Jean Heath; father, Maurice Johns Sr.; one brother, Donte Johns; two grandmothers, Bernice Jordan and Anna Mae Johns. A devoted mother-in-law, Joan Rush; one niece, Kayla Johns; and a host of relatives and friends.

“ Been thinking a lot lately how different life would be if you were still here.. The hole you left has not diminished, probably won't. When Donte and I first met he would talk about you ALL the time, god that boy loved you so, after so much time I thought he was joking.. Than to he phone calls and letters started, I looked forward to each and every one and like everyone else who knew you by the time you came home I was hooked and loved you immediately, you had a way about you and then the 2 of you together like little kids all over again. Weather playing ball fishing or watching you guys on the keyboard you brought the best out of each other and made it a strength, since the night we lost you he has lived for both of you and made you his strength. Donte has come so far, I always knew he had it and couldn't be prouder of all he has accomplished, and the hunger for more.. Kayla has grown into a beautiful, gracious, humble, loving, creative soul. And funny. We talk about you and remanis all the time , I feel you know that . Miss you , love you and doing my best to keep my promise..

“ It's been 14 years and it still feels like yesterday that I lost you BoBo. I would never imagined that day. Your passing has left a empty place in my heart that no one can ever fill. Although God lends us for a period of time, selfishly I wasn't ready to give you back. There were so many times undone. Your son is growing to be an awesome young man one that you would be very proud of. Continue to RIP until me meet again. Love you always.

“ My condolences on the loss of your dear loved one. Our family finds much comfort from the Bible. Here is one such passage: "The hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life."- John 5:28,29 May you find just as much solace as we have in this promise.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ THERE WAS AN ANGEL CHOIR IN HEAVEN THAT WASN'T QUITE COMPLETE, SO THEY TOOK YOUR DARLING LOVED ONE TO FILL THE EMPTY SEAT. Our family would like to extend heartfelt condolences to yours. We will continue to keep Maurice, and all of you, in our thoughts and prayers. Losing a loved one is never easy and their memory will always live on -- through parents, children, friends. And, having people tell you that he is with Jesus and that everything will be okay does not bring him back or make coping with your grief any easier. But, knowing that so may people cared about Maurice and knowing that the Lord has given Maurice the chance to "go home" and to watch over and take care of his family in the safety of the Lord's arms, will one day instill peace in your heart that all of you played a part in raising such a blessed young man. And everyone can consider themselves blessed for having had the opportunity to know him.##imported-begin##Magan Davidson-Nadwodny##imported-end##
