

Maxine D. Sampson-Green

October 23, 1945 - December 22, 2013

MAXINE DELORES SAMPSON-GREEN was born to the late Andrew Sampson and the late Louisa McCuller-Sampson. Maxine, the fifth girl born to Louisa, entered this world on October 23, 1945. She departed this life December 22, 2013 after a lengthy battle with cancer.

Maxine was raised in Turners Station and received her education in the Baltimore City Public School System. Maxine graduated from Dunbar High and went on to obtain a certificate as a Certified Apprentice Welder, but her greatest achievement was obtaining her certificate as a Certified Nursing Assistant.

Maxine's passion for life was loving and caring for others, While raising her family as a single mother, Max was always showing and teaching survival skills to her kids with full honor and great pride. Max enjoyed cooking, dancing and simply being the life of the party. Maxine was the mother of all to so many, and the grandmother to so many children (not just her own) with a heart that was bigger than life. Maxine was willing to lend her leadership in so many places, she led an all boys baseball team, she loved substituting within the Baltimore City Public Schools. Max as she was so lovingly called was seemingly THE MOTHER TO ALL! She even cared for the stray animals loving, caring and sheltering, leading them from harm's way. Max would lend her unlicensed skills to the needs of any and all.

Maxine, the Sampson Matriarch, had two sons who preceded her in death, Albert Leon Howard IV and Michael Sampson Sr.

She leaves to mourn: her daughters, Deborah Wharton, Dawnet Taylor, Reneé Sampson-Pack, Nicole Green and Tonya Taylor; two sons- in-law, Mark Taylor and James Pack Sr.; two niece/daughters, Robin Williams and Andrea Turner-Wallingford; two nephew/sons, Nathaniel Williams and Marvin Williams; her sisters, Alice Nelson, Carolyn Turner, Vanessa Anderson, Margie Lyons and Ruth; and a brother, June Pope; three lifelong best friends, Inez, Cookie and Patricia; 16 grandchildren and 19 great-grands; special friend, LeeArtis Jackson; best friend, David Green; a host of cousins, nieces, nephews, in-laws and close friends.
