

Mercent D. Thompson

January 27, 1952 - May 13, 2016

mercent DELORITA THOMPSON, daughter of the late John McKenzie and Admira Ellis, was born on January 27, 1952 in Woodhall Claredon, Jamaica.

She was a daddy's girl. Mercent received her education in Claredon, Jamaica.

In the early 70's, she gave birth to her first daughter, Bethaney Reid. Mercent continued to live in Jamaica. Later, she met Jarvis Thompson and had her second son, Rayon Thompson. Later on, Mercent traveled to Canada and New York. She decided she wanted to be closer to her brother, John Newell and make a better life for her family in Jamaica and moved to Maryland in 1980. Shortly after Mercent returned to Jamaica, she married the love of her life, Jarvis Thompson, in January of 1984. She later returned and had her baby girl, Fayona Thompson. After giving birth, she went back to work. She worked various jobs until she settled at St. Agnes Hospital. There she was a patient technician for thirteen years.

One day, Mercent was told the devastating news of being diagnosed with Lymphoma (a type of cancer), which caused her to retire in early November of 2014. She did not let her illness stop her joy of praising God and staying strong. She battled the illness and fought hard for two-and-a-half years.

On Friday, May 13, 2016, God called His angel home. Mercent will truly be missed.

Mercent made numerous friends wherever she went. She was a true friend and devoted wife.

She leaves to mourn: her husband, Jarvis Thompson; son, Rayon Thompson; step-son, Simon Thompson; two daughters, Bethaney Reid and Fayona Thompson; five sisters, Beverley, Clear, Vondee, and Rona; seven brothers, John, Tony, Lennox, Blue, Paul, Lundy, and Jimmy; six grandchildren, Carla, Jermaine, Bianca, Ty'ree, Isaiah, and Imani; and two great-grandchildren, Jay'len and Lyrik; and a host of nieces, nephews, other loving relatives and friends.
