“ Although I didn't know him personally, please accept my heartfelt condolences on your loss. At times like this, the scriptures can be a great souce of comfort, because God's words not only bring us comfort in our grief, but they offer us a sure hope of being reunited with our loved ones again who have passed on. One scripture that really comforts me is found at Rev 21:4 which says, "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. "The former things have passed away." I hope that scripture brings some comfort to you as well, as you reflect on your cherished memories of your loved one.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

“ Rest my most precious brother. I will never forget how funny you could be. I will not forget your kindness and compassion for others, your wisdom or your intelligence. I knew I could always depend on you. What will I do now? I will never ever forget the Glory of OUR God (yours and mine)and His Presence in your room at the moment that you asked The Lord into you life. You are in my heart and you are in my mirror. As I look at myself I see many reflections of you and I am honored. I pray my heart reflects you as well. Peace my dear brother in a place where breathing is easy and there in no more pain and no more worry - Just Love.##imported-begin##Robin Brown##imported-end##
