

Michael Anthony Williams

August 15, 1962 - February 2, 2024

Michael Anthony Williams, son of the late Shirley Ann Williams and Herbert Norris Williams, entered the world on August 15, 1962, in Richmond, Virginia. He was a protective husband, supportive father, loving pop pop, and loyal brother.

Despite his liking to keep to himself, his smooth talking and infectious laugh made him a friend wherever he went. Upon talking to him, you would quickly learn that he loved the Lord, "San and his girls," and playing his bass guitar, which he named after his late wife, Sandra.

Michael was smart, funny, prideful, lucky, determined, and an excellent judge of character. If you needed advice about someone or something, you would call Michael. And if you ever crossed him or someone he loved, he would never let you forget it. He took nothing from no one and quickly gave it to you straight in a smart-mouthed tone with stern eye contact. But under his hard shell was a misunderstood, kind, and gentle man who only wanted to love, be loved, and have a sound peace of mind.

After graduating for Walbrook High School, Michael served in the U.S. Army and National Guard with the primary title of Combat Medical Specialist. His military decorations include an Army Service Ribbon and a Sharpshooter Qualification Badge (Hand Grenade). After serving, Michael worked many jobs in construction, factory manufacturing, hotel housekeeping, and as a cemetery groundsman.

Although he transitioned from this world on February 2, 2024 at 6, Michael was loved by many people who will rejoice about his life from the minute the Lord opened his eyes to the minute He closed them. Michael has finally joined his loving wife of 31 years, Sandra, in the afterlife, and will be remembered on Earth by: his children, Latonya Hilton, Lakeya Williams, Lashawn Williams, Lashawna Williams; grandchildren, Wynter Johnson, Khan Johnson, Shacara Holmes, Ebony Stack; great-grandchildren, Ryleigh Davis; siblings, Phillip Williams, Perscilla Cothorn, Rodney Williams; numerous other family members and friends.
