

Millard Thurston Cox

July 29, 1954 - July 16, 2002

Dr. Millard Thurston Cox, Jr. was born on July 29, 1954 to Bishop Millard Cox, Sr. and the late Thelma Curtis Cox, in Baltimore, Maryland. His sister Synthia McClam preceded him in death. Thurston, as he was affectionately known, was educated in the public Schools of Baltimore. He then went on to receive his undergraduate degree in Biology (Pre-Med.) from Bowie State University in 1977. In 1981 he received his Doctor of Medicine degree from Meharry Medical College. Thurston subsequently did his post-doctoral training in Internal Medicine at Howard University. Shortly thereafter he move to Mississippi to begin his practice. For the last few years, he has been a part of the East River Medical Group, as well as the Mallory Community Health Center. As gifted as Thurston was in the sciences, he was equally so when it came to the arts. Without any formal music lessons, he began to play the piano/organ at the age of eleven, at his fathers newly formed church-Faith Hope U.H.C. He often joked, "I started to play the piano because I had to go to church anyway; this was a way to pass the time while being there." For the last decade he has faithfully served in the music ministry of Anderson United Methodist Church. He has had the privilege of accompanying several renowned gospel artists, including Rev. James Moore, Dorothy Norwood, Vanessa Bell-Armstrong, The Jackson Southernaires, Minister Keith Pringle, Melvin Williams, Lillian Lilly, and others. According to Thurston, his most fulfilling musical accomplishment occurred when David R. Curry, Jr., invited him to become a part of the Mississippi Mass Choir ministry, where he faithfully served for thirteen years. His fingers can be unmistakably heard tickling the piano and organ keys on the choirs last five critically acclaimed recordings. His composition "The Lord Shall Reign" can be found on the choirs Grammy and Stellar nominated projects. Late Tuesday night, July 16, 2002 Thurston surrendered his all, and marched triumphantly from labor to reward. Thurston leaves to celebrate his legacy of service, love, laughter, and music, his father, Bishop Millard Cox, Sr.; four children, Aaron Sr., Joseph (JT), Millard III (Trey), and Jocelin; one grandson, Aaron Jr.; two sisters, Muriel (Robert), and Carolyn; two brothers, Tony, and Eric (Sophia); four Nieces, Vanessa (Grant), Jillian, Jenell and Caila; four nephews, Jason, Marcus, William Jr., and Caleb; a devoted friend, Sonja Delaware; and a host of special friends and co-workers. As the Apostle Paul stated in II Timothy 4:7-8, " I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the Righteous Judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love His appearing."

“ *Bishop Cox & Family: We are deeply saddened by the loss of Thurston. My earliest memories of him are from the Northern District Convocations as a teenager. I had just joined the North Jersey District Choir at 13 and Thurston would play during lunch breaks between services. I would sit on the front pew and just be mesmerized with the beautiful sounds. I'm glad I got to know him and although it's been a really long time since I've seen him last, I will never forget him from those days. He was an incredible person. My husband and I will be in prayer for all of you, that the peace of the Lord will surround you in this difficult time. “ *In Your Time Of Sorrow... No card nor words could ever say, just what you need to hear, to make the pain go away; but here's what I just have to say, hoping that it will help in some meekly way... When the roads of life get too tough for you, and the load just about to break you... When life just seems to let you down, look up at the Father's face and tell him all about it, for He's right there... When you've tried everything you know, just got to the LORD in prayer, get up, step back, and watch Him move, watch Him make a way for you... He's the key to that locked door... He's the heavy and light weight champion, who will fight the fight for you... He's the joy bells that ring in your time of sorrow... He's the answer to the unanswerable question... He's the faith that can move any mountain... AHHH!!! (A sigh of relief) for He's everything, Yes EVERYTHING that you need or ever will need Him to be... “ Bishop Cox and family, Marjorie and I wish to express our sincere condolence to you. Thurston was a great musician and an inspiration to me personally. I will always value the time we spent working on the UHC album in 1986. We will keep you in our prayers.##imported-begin##Walter & Marjorie Roberts##imported-end##

“ So glad to have received this site; it was forwarded to me by my First Lady. Was not able to attend the funeral; thus this information proved to be very informative. Thank you for the development of this site. My prayers are with Bishop Cox and the entire family, and have been since the day I learned of Thurston's passing.##imported-begin##Crystal Toland-Gagum##imported-end##

“ To the Cox Family: Our deepest sympathy in the loss of your love one. His musical contribution will never be forgotten. However, when your work on earth is done; and your feet can no longer trod; may your name be forever written; in the Autograph of God. May God's love continue to be with you, forever and always.##imported-begin##Aretha M. Mallard & Family##imported-end##

“ Bishop Cox & Family,- Just want you to know that we are praying for you at this time of great sorrow. We will always treasure the memories of our dear friend Thurston. We were all the "young folk" growing up in conventions, him with that great big smile and him tickling the ivory with his God- given gift. He was a master indeed! We are glad to have been blessed to be friends. You are in our prayers. Earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal.##imported-begin##Elder Rodney & Cynthia Jackson##imported-end##
