

Nancy Jane Gee

December 5, 1946 - August 27, 2011

Nancy J. Gee, daughter of the late Elder and Earleane Alston, was born December 5, 1946 in Baltimore, Maryland. After a lengthy illness Nancy departed this life on August 27, 2011.

Yvette, as she was affectionately known to her family and friends, received her education in the Baltimore public school system. She was a 1965 Frederick Douglass High School graduate. Yvette worked as a secretary for the Baltimore City Equal Opportunity Commission. She worked there until her health began to fail.

One of Yvette's proudest moments was when she became a mother and gave birth to her twin daughters Stephanie and Tiffanie.

When Yvette's health allowed her to, she enjoyed dining out, playing scrabble, reading and listening to "oldies but goodies" music with her sisters, Loretta and Gwen. In fact, while a patient at Future Care Irvington, she learned how to play bingo. She loved playing board games and participating in karaoke. For the past ten years, Yvette attended the Provident Adult Day Care Center. At the center she acted as their receptionist.

Yvette leaves to cherish her memory: her sisters, Loretta Tyler and Gwendolyn Simmons; her brothers, Elder Alston and David Dozier; her daughters, Stephanie Alston and Tiffanie Carter; her niece, Kelli Simmons-Ramjit; her nephew, Trenton Tyler; her brother-in-law, Herman Tyler; devoted family friends, Crystal and Louise Brown; and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ Trust in Jehovah for the comfort and peace that will get you through this difficult time.

(2 Corinthians 1:3-4) Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort those in any sort of tribulation through the comfort with which we ourselves are being comforted by God.
