“ I was utterly surprised to learn of your passing. All of your colleagues who knew of you at Amazon along with your husband extend our deepest sympathy. I will miss seeing the loving connection between you and your husband. You guys were such a cute loving couple. I would always stop you two from time to time to make my special loving comments to you both when y'all were returning back into the building from lunch. When I heard the news I could not help but to weep. Praying for your husband and family for this terrible loss. May you rest in peace Natasha.
