

Nathaniel Williams

January 27, 1939 - February 18, 2015

NATHANIEL WILLIAMS, son of the late Cosco Williams, Sr. and Blanche Baker, was born on January 27, 1939 in Baltimore, Maryland. He departed this life on February 18, 2015 after a short illness.

Nathaniel (fondly known to everyone as Nay or Nate) received his education at Dunbar High School. After leaving school, he was employed at a Baltimore printing company for many years.

Back in the day, Nay was known to be a sharp dresser. He loved to watch the SciFi channel while complaining the whole time about how phony it was and saying it was nothing but trash. Nay adored his family and looked forward to every opportunity to be in their company. Nay, Bo and Baby Sis would sit and reminisce for hours on memories from when they were growing up.

So when you think about Nay, always remember him with a cap on his head, a joke or smart comment to make you laugh, whatever nickname he had for you and loving almost every dessert he came across.

He leaves to mourn: two daughters, Leslie and Dyshawn (one daughter preceded him in death, Ne Denia Williams-Willis); son, Nathaniel Williams, Jr. (Patman); two brothers, Cosco (Co), Stanley (Bo) who helped take care of Nay (one brother preceded him in death, Charles Williams); devoted sister and caregiver, Deloma (Babysis); his life-long friend, Richard Young (Bubble); six grandchildren, nieces, nephews and host of other relatives and friends who will miss him dearly.

“ I am extremely sorry for your loss. I can not imagine the pain you have had to endure. May the God of comfort be with you now and in times to come. God's Word the bible promises the hope of seeing our dead loved ones again. That promise is at John 28,29 and also at Revelations 21: 3,4
