February 14, 1987 - September 30, 2003

Nekoro Brown, beloved son of Delroy and Ophelia Brown, was born on February 14, 1987 at Mercy Medical Center in Baltimore, Maryland. Nekoro attended Pimlico Elementary School, Greenspring Middle School and Malcolm X Center. Nekoro played soccer for Greenspring Middle School. He loved to draw, to play video games, loved to swim and was very skilled on the computer. Nekoro was a member of Northwest Church of God under the leadership of Pastor Prim Sankar. Nekoro was a loving, kind and devoted son. He was a true friend. Nekoro leaves to mourn: his father, Delroy Brown; his mother, Ophelia Brown; sister, Shemika Brown; brother, Shaka Brown; grandmothers, Lurline Wizzart and Eunice Brown; a host of uncles, aunts, cousins and friends. Nekoro departed this life and went to Glory on September 30, 2003 after a tragic violent crime ended his short-lived life. He was loved by his family and friends and we will miss him dearly.

“ The death of a person is not the time to weep, for they are gone and shall no more return. It is time for rejoicing, for the Lord, our God, has brought His child to sit by Him - forever. This is a time for all to remember the pleasant times that were shared between yourself and those departed. Do not be selfish and wish them back. For they have gained what every human desires - eternal peace.##imported-begin##Ethel Burke & Family##imported-end##

“ Although you might find little solace in the why behind your sorrow. The one you love is gone from here, and this changes not tomorrow. If loss comes, too, with tragedy, its harder even still, to believe such pain was preference, much less anybody's will. God Bless You##imported-begin##Brenda Royster##imported-end##

“ My condolences to the family.Hosea 13:14 tells us that death will be done away with and our loved ones will be brought back to us. It reads- "From the hand of Sheol I shall redeem them; from death I shall recover them. Where are your stings, O Death? Where is your destructiveness, O Sheol? Please take comfort in this promise from God's Word.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ Dear Ro, I'm here still missing you and will always miss you for the remainder of life. Words cant express the pain I feel sometimes when I reminisce on our antics, conversations and games. I even miss wrestling you and I always won. (smile)You will never be replaced from your handsome face to your contagious laugh and charming personality. You left a big void in our hearts that with time and God's help may ease, but never completely fill. Watch over us and look out for us. Virginia Beach and Valentines Day will never be the same. I will always love you and I will ensure that you are due justice. Loving and missing you always (along with all your other girlfriends) P.S. Keep your hair braided, and yes yours is longer than mine by choice not by force and iron your white tee.##imported-begin##Meka##imported-end##

“ To the family of Nekoro A. Brown, Sorry to hear about your family's loss. I can't begin to imagine what you must be going through. The Bible gives us comfort at Romans 15:5 - "The God who supplies endurance and comfort.." I have an article I would like to deliver to the parents of the child entitled "Comfort for Grieving Parents". This article shows how God can supply us with comfort. Please send me your address so that I can personally deliver this message to you in printed form. Yours Truly, Joseph Hill
