

Norris Lee Booker

February 2, 1971 - April 18, 2002

Norris Lee Booker, second eldest son to Willis Lee and Gloria Booker. Norris was born and raised in Baltimore, Maryland. He attended Baltimore City Public School until early teen years. Norris went astray but he paid his dues to society and regained his self-esteem. He met and fell in love with his wife Mrs. Yvonne Fisher-Booker, who he married on September 23, 2000. Norris loved sports and he loved to make people laugh. He could also be overly intellectually stimulating at times, but he never meant any harm. In April of 2001 Norris gave his life to Christ and joined the Browns Memorial Baptist Church. Norris enjoyed attending church and was very pleased by the messages he received through each sermon. Norris fell gravely ill in March and never recovered. God saw fit to take all the pain and suffering from his ailing body and on Thursday morning April 18, 2002 at 1:45 a.m. Norris went home to be with our Lord. Norris is survived by his wife Mrs. Yvonne Fisher-Booker, two sons, DuWane Montae' Booker and D'Juan Booker; one stepson, Jovan Whitaker; one step-daughter, Ebony Fisher; four step grandchildren, Capri, Kavon, Mikel and Tyseana; grandmother, Katie Squire; grandfather, Millard Squire; father, Willis Lee Booker; stepmother, Trudy Booker; four brothers, Mark Anthony, Jerry, Willis Jr. and Daron Booker; one sister, Tiara Booker; two nephews, Mark Jr. and Tyqwell Booker; two nieces, Taylor and Shaniquia Booker; three sisters-in-law, Anjanette Booker, Mamie and Penny Fisher; one brother-in-law, James Fisher Jr.; his favorite aunt, Liz Arron; his favorite uncle, John Craddock and a host of cousins and other relatives.
