

Nycole Ayché Kerr

February 17, 1970 - January 25, 2014

NYCOLE AYCHÉ KERR, 43, of Baltimore, Maryland passed away on Saturday January 25, 2014. She was born in Poughkeepsie, New York to the late Robert Everett Kerr Jr. and Naomi H. Kerr on Tuesday, February 17, 1970.

Nycole was lovingly known to family and friends as "Nicky." Nicky received her education in the Baltimore City Public School System. She was baptized at Wayland Baptist Church at the age of ten by Rev. Darneal F. Johnson Jr. and she loved going to Sunday School. Later, Nicky attended Agapé Fellowship Baptist Church, where she made a deeper commitment with the Lord. Nycole was on fire for the Lord and would often quote scriptures for her life. Her favorite scripture was Psalm 91.

Nycole loved high fashion and styling hair. She was smart, outspoken and very kind-hearted; she was all about keeping it real. Whenever she could, she ministered in dance for the Lord. She was vivacious and a unique young woman who gave life all she had and defied death for many years. She departed this life after a rough battle with drugs.

She's survived by: her three children, Travis Kerr, Keith Johnson, and Troy Kerr; mother, Naomi Kerr; sisters, Cathy Turner, Dawn Kerr and Kimberlee Bing; brother, Antonio Jackson; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, aunts and uncles. FROM THE FAMILY While Nycole struggled with her various challenges, she never let those challenges define her. Instead, she constantly faced those challenges and overcame them many times. To those who knew Nycole best, we will always remember and cherish the good times we had with her, her sincere words, her laugh, and her love. We will miss her dearly, but are comforted by our knowledge that she is now resting in the arms of her Savior. If Nycole were here she wouldn't want us to cry for her. Instead, she would want us to rejoice for her new life, in her new freedom. She'd comfort us and make us smile as only she could. With that, we wipe our eyes, we silence our tears and focus on our memories.

“ I'm floored at this moment....I just got the news that my friend, my sister that I never had, someone I looked up to and wanted to be just like when we grew up....my dance partner....Wow when I got the news it hit me like a boulder in my chest. I sorry I had to find out after you were gone but you know that you were and forever be in my heart. I even named my first child after you. Sorry for your departure big sis. but you are in a better place so I'm good with knowing that. No more suffering in any fashion. I LOVE YOU and just watch over me now until we meet again.

“ Nycole will truly be missed. God chose to use her for His glory though dance and encouragement of those in similar struggles. Her inner dance was a gift to all who experienced her in ministry. She was elevated in her movement and her devotion to the gift she knew God had blessed her with. Whenever Nycole danced for God it made me want to experience more of what she had to offer. Her obedience to stepping up to the task at hand was a commendable sacrifice because she knew that each time she danced, the enemy would attack. I will always remember Nycole for her anointed spirit and the love she always showed me.
