

Patricia A. Jones

April 28, 1960 - May 30, 2002

Patricia Ann Jones, born April 28, 1960, the youngest daughter of the late George M. Jones and Anna Louise Jones. Patricia lost her long battle with cancer on Thursday, May 30, 2002. Her battle began at the tender age of 15. Patricia fought hard to strive and went on to live an interesting and full life. After graduating from Seton High, Patricia attended Morgan State University. She left Morgan and ventured off to Boston University. She graduated from Boston University in 1984 with a BS Degree in Journalism. Patricia decided to spread her wings and take up residence in New York. She pursued her career as a journalist working at Black Enterprises Magazine. She also did free lance writing for such magazines as Family Circle, Women's Day and the Crisis Magazine for NAACP. She also wrote articles for the Catholic Review and the New York Post. Patricia traveled all over the world to such places as Africa, Italy, Copenhagen and Paris to name a few. She accomplished her dream of being a novelist by writing three books, two of which have been published, Passing and Red on a Rose. The son of Ham will be published next year. Pat, as she was known was a journalist, and author, a daughter, a wife, a mother, a sister, an aunt, a cousin and a friend. She was a beautiful person inside and out. She leaves a void in our lives and our hearts that will never be filled. Patricia is survived by her husband, Derek Bacchus; mother, Anna L. Jones; three sisters, Velma Adams, Bettye Pettiford, Annette Dodson; one brother, Thomas Jones; a mother-in-law, Donna Hughes; father-in-law, Patrick Bacchus; step father-in-law, Jack Hughes; two sister-in-laws, Shawn Bacchus “ "Always my sister- in-law." I met you at a tender young age, watched you grow and mature into a beautiful lady. It seems as though I have known you all of your life. Life holds no guarantees for us but for the time God blessed us with your love and your presence, all of our lives have been enriched. Now you are at peace, it has been a long struggle but I know that you are in good hands. You will always be remembered and I will always cherish the thoughts of the beautiful person and friend you came to be. Peace be with you always. I know that Sharon is there to waiting to greet you. Love, Butch Clinton Pettiford, Esq.

“ Sometimes words just are not enough to take away our grief, so we rely on God for help and strength in our belief. May He uplift you greatly, take the sorrow that you bear, than comfort you with healing in the safety of His care... May God's love comfort you at this difficult time. The March Family and Staff
