

Patricia Andoleo

August 17, 1946 - December 3, 2001

Patricia Andoleo, daughter of Mildred and the late Ernest Adolphus Andoleo, Sr., was born August 17, 1946 in Baltimore, Maryland and she departed this life in December 3, 2001. Patricia received her education at Paul Laurence Dunbar High School in Baltimore. Following her studies she spent several years amongst friends while working at the Misty Harbor Coat Company. During her latter years, Patricia bestowed her dedication and humorous wit upon her co-workers in the processing department at Sun Trust Bank in Glen Burnie, Maryland. Patricia leaves to mourn her mother, Mildred A. Andoleo; one daughter, Adrienne Jene Mayo; three brothers, Ernest Jr., Jerome and Rodney Andoleo. In addition she will be deeply mourned by her niece Monique T. Andoleo White, and a nephew Alex A. Jackson whom she lovingly and carefully helped to raise. Patricia has also preceded in passing a host of other relatives and friends whom she will one day meet and greet again. In addition to her numerous relatives and friend, Patricia has willed upon all who knew her a glorious estate of priceless laughter, wisdom, and memories to be shared and passed along. For those who remain in this place at this time, Patricia leaves the knowledge and assurance that they shall never walk alone. In life she served as the rock upon which all could lean and bear. In death, she will continue to serve as a rock, however her comfort and care will come in the form of a warm and soothing feeling, and you will know that this feeling is Pat, because as always you won't be able to contain your smiles and laughter.
