

Patricia Banks Thomas

December 4, 1953 - November 29, 2010

PATRICIA BANKS THOMAS, affectionately know as Pat, daughter of Phyllis G. Banks and the late Ulynsses A. Banks, was born on October 15, 1953, in Aberdeen, Maryland. God in His infinite wisdom, called her home on November 29, 2010.

Pat was educated in the Baltimore City Public Schools. She continue her education by earning a Bachelor's Degree at Morgan State University, the first in her family to doso. She was united in marriage to Anthony P. Thomas, and they became the proud parents of two beautiful and talented daughters.

She began her career with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. For several years, Pat was employed by the State of Maryland, with the State Police Department. At the time of her passing, she was employed by the Howard County District Court.

Pat was a strong woman, devoted to her two daughters, Shannon and Jeanna. She was one of the founding members of the Mothers of Color, an organization that fostered the education and learning of their children at numerous local historic venues, while promoting positive parent-child interactions. She enjoyed bowling, reading, watching movies and television, especially cooking, home and garden, as well as reality shows. Pat was also a self-proclaimed chocoholic and an avid Ravens fan on Sunday afternoons. In addition, her delicious sweet potato pie was a delightful hit with her family and friends during the holidays.

To cherish her memory she leaves: her daughters, Shannon Lynae and Jeanna Antoinette; her mother, Phyllis G. Banks; her brother, Stephen L. Banks and his wife, Angela; three aunts, Alverta S. Murrell, Ethel C. Jones and Catherine Carr; three nieces, Elonda, Terrine and Brenda; one nephew, Fred; and a host of cousins, other relatives and friends.

“ For me, to think of a cherished memory about Pat, it must include her girls...

I shall always cherish our many MOCSG outings, but the one that stays in my mind is Crystal Grottoes Caverns. It was the perfect Fall afternoon. We had the cavern to ourselves and after the tour we decided to picnic and relax by the creek as the children played.

Felicia, Pat and I each positioned ourselves about the blanket so that we could cover all angles of our adventurous girls: Gina, Bria and Blair playing in the cornfields; Shannon and Rynne perched upon a log that straddled the creek, deep in conversation. That day will forever be a part of me for it embodied our friendship, our laughter and our joy. We were "mothers" and "women" that day, not letting go of our responsibility of keeping the girls safe, yet being able to talk and share as women.

*There is a song that says, "Thanks for the memories..."
My prayers are with you!*
