

Patrick C. Coleman

May 22, 1950 - January 19, 2018

Patrick Calvin Coleman, beloved son of the late William and Clara Coleman, was born on May 22, 1950 and departed this life on Friday, January 19, 2018, at the age of 67.

Patrick was a devoted husband and father. He was married to the former Denise Lawson who preceded him in eternal rest. From their union one son, Patrick Calvin Coleman, was born.

Patrick was educated in the Baltimore City Public Schools, and was a graduate of the Maryland Institute College of Art (MICA) with a major in General Fine Arts such as painting and drawing. He concentrated mostly on portraits and still-life. Water, oil paints, charcoal and pencils were his media and the world was his canvas. Though painting and drawing were his passion, he was quite an entertainer. He truly enjoyed singing with family and friends and listening to old Motown singers like Smokey Robinson, one of his favorites. In his moments of reflection, Patrick the philosopher emerged.

"Pat," as some called him, made friends wherever he went and was always willing to lend a helping hand in any situation. He was a wonderful husband, father, brother and son who was so loved and will be so missed. His wit, wisdom and great sense of humor will truly be remembered and appreciated by all who knew him.

Pat leaves to mourn: his son, Patrick Coleman, Jr.; two sisters, one brother-in-law, five sisters-in-law, cousins, nieces, nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.
