OBITUARY

He departed his life on August 27, 2022. Richard John Redd III and was born on January 24, 1983, in Columbia, South Carolina to Mary Marable Redd and Richard John Redd Jr. During his first years of life, he was called “Baby Rick”. He accepted Christ at a very young age. Richard attended Henrico County Public Schools and graduated from Highland Springs High School in June 2001. In 2019, Richard earned his Associate of Science Degree in General Education from Troy University. On September 11, 2001, Richard enlisted into the United States Air Force. Richard later moved to the Middle East for 12 years where he worked as a Contractor.

Richard was a devoted son, brother, nephew, and uncle. He was a light that shined bright in the lives of his family and friends. Richard was an exceptional and special young man with a heart of gold. Everyone who knew him can attest to his loving and gentle spirit and that he was the voice of reason in any situation. Richard’s outlook on life was, every day is a new opportunity, a chance for a new beginning. He had a calming effect on everyone, and he lived his life like it was golden. Even though no one is perfect, some folks described Richard as an Angel on earth. Richard will forever be loved and missed.

“ My dearest Richard,
My love for you knows no bounds. There is no day that passes where I don't think about you. From your words of wisdom to the thoughtful and caring sense of comfort you engulfed me with. My life has felt uncertain without you in it. There are moments when I think of how difficult things are and how if you were here, it would take one word, or two, that you would say to me for me to immediately be centered and know to let my concerns go.
Don't worry. Everything will be ok.
I don't have the words to describe how secure and safe you made me feel because just saying that alone doesn't truly capture the feeling you gave me.
You knew you were unique. A true unicorn. The only one made perfectly. Yes, you were perfection to me. You were made in God's image, morally just, spiritually centered and an intellectual. God took time creating you. We joked many times about you being an angel. When we weren't referencing you as an angel, we called you Saint Rick. It was your pure, matter of fact, analytical, smart spirit that confirmed to me just how special you were.
You were a gentleman. You were regal. You were the epitome of strength. You were respected, adored, admired and beloved.
I love and loved everything about you. Every bit of you was likeable. We would joke about that word too. You are so likeable :-)
I smile when I think of the many memories we shared. I smile when I think of how lucky and blessed I was to share a meaningful part of your life with you. You truly were my best friend. You understood me – fully.
When I thought about writing this, I thought I would get some sense of closure, or it would be my last letter to you. It's not. It's just a moment in time when I can't shake you from my mind and I want to release my thoughts about you here. I want the world to know how amazing you are and were. It's still so hard to write in past tense.
I miss you.

Love, aka Miss Amazing, Shelli Redd

“ My first memory of Richard was the date of his birth. As his Aunti Mimi, I was over the moon excited to have my Baby Rick join our family. Never in a million years did I think I would be around for his death. I am so thankful that he was a major part of my life's journey and I was a major part of his. I am proud to have been his aunt and to have seen him grow into the most extraordinary young man that touched the hearts of so many. My heart is so sad yet I am so honored to have been a part of his life. I love you so much Richard! Rest well, my Angel!
