

Richard William Stepney

July 18, 1949 - April 15, 2002

Richard William Stepney, son of the late Howard and Eva Stepney, was born on July 18, 1949 in Baltimore, Maryland. He was called home to the Lord on April 15th, 2002. Butch, as he was affectionately called, was a member of the Ames Memorial Methodist Church. Richard graduated from Baltimore Polytechnic Institute in 1967. He took college courses at University of Baltimore. He was a devoted employee at Deloitte and Touche for fifteen years until he became ill. Richard leaves to mourn: three sisters, Brenda Browne of Randallstown, Deborah Tower of Killeen, Texas and Karen Chewning of Baltimore; three brothers-in-law, Alexander Browne, Shawn Chewning, and Will Tower; five nephews, one niece and a host of relatives and friends including special friends Sandy Martin and Mabel Rogers.

“ Rich, well tomorrow is your birthday. I should not worry you with my selfishness, but I miss you. I know you are with the Lord and I beleive you are looking out for me as you always did. I love you so much! Now I can tell you when the first year you were sick were the hardest for me. I was so lonely without you. A part of me was missing. Thirteen years is a long time. We were inseperable from 9-5. (smile) Just like the song. (ha ha he he).I know when you are with me . I can feel your presence and I know when you transform to someone and smile at me. No, silly I am not losing it! Listen, I know you hear me talking to you. Happy Birthday!##imported-begin##Sandy(Looneytoon)a##imported-end##

“ Richard will always have a special place in my heart. He brought sunshine on days that were otherwise cloudy, laughter when frustration loomed, and exceptionally good gossip when there was nothing else to do! I pray that God continues to bless the family of such a wonderful person.##imported-begin##Pam Treadwell##imported-end##
