

Richard Wayne Workman

July 17, 1951 - May 12, 2011

RICHARD WAYNE WORKMAN, son of Sara M. Workman and the late John Henry Workman was born on July 17, 1951 in Winston Salem, North Carolina. As a youngster, his family moved to Baltimore, Maryland where he was educated in the Baltimore School System.

He attended Carver Vocational Technical High School where he acquired skills in tailoring which ignited his entrepreneurial spirit. As an entrepreneur, he used his creative style and flair for fashion to design a wide array of hats, scarves and garments, which incorporated into his own personal style. Richard had an eye for fashion and was known to be a sharp dresser. His tailoring work and original designs were sought after and worn by many.

Richard was also a skilled master craftsman who specialized in repairing and restoring shoes. Using his creativity and inventive skills, he was able to work with a wide variety of fabrics including fur, silk and leather, leaving his original mark on anything that he touched while providing his service to numerous people. Not only was it his expertise in fashion, but Richard has an infectious personality that gained him many friends and lasting relationships.

Richard was not only a perfectionist with his craft, he also brought that same type of tenacity to the dance floor. Richard was an avid hand dancer who had his own unique style and was well known for his smooth moves and footwork.

Dance was an essential element in Richard's life and he made it an art of his own. As with many things in his life, he took dance to another level and left his lasting mark and influence on those around him.

On Wednesday, May 11, 2011, Richard suddenly transitioned from this life and will be surely missed by his family and friends.

He leaves to cherish found memories, his four children: Dwayne Perry, Raquel Workman (deceased), Denika Russel and Richard Workman; twelve grandchildren; and eight great-grandchildren; his mother, Sarah M. Workman; three sisters: Martha McCaskill, Gloria Workman and Phyllis Vinson; two brothers: Ernest Workman and Walter Workman (deceased); and a host of loving relatives and friends.

“ I did not have the pleasure of meeting Richard. Please accept my sincere condolences. I do believe I know Phyllis (If she went to Booker T Jr High in 1961-64). In any event, be assured that soon no resident will get sick or die. Soon no mourning nor outcries of emotional pain due to losing our love ones in death! (Rev 21:3,4)

“ I know you don't know me, but I saw Mr. Workman's obituary; I wanted to send you my condolences.
As humans, we grieve over the death of a loved one; that's normal, because we know Jesus gave way to tears (John 11:35) after the death of his close friend Lazarus. He demonstrated what resurrection will mean for mankind; in John 11:11, 14-44, “Jesus said to his disciples, ‘Lazarus our friend has gone to rest, but I am journeying there to awaken him from sleep.’ Luke 23:43 provides us the hope for paradise here on earth, because Jesus stated, “Truly I tell you today, YOU will be with me in Paradise.” Jesus statement meant that “All the earth will be transformed back into a paradise under the rule of Christ as King!
1 Thessalonians 4:13 Paul instructs us to not be ignorant concerning those who are sleep (in death); This hope Paul mentions is the hope for the restored Paradise on Earth, as Jehovah God had originally created for all of mankind to enjoy.
