“ I am truly sorry for your loss. May Jehovah God prove to be a source of comfort in your time of need. We all look forward to the day when this scripture will be fulfilled- Revelation 21:4-"And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away."##imported-begin##D. Matthews##imported-end##

“ Please accept my sincere condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. The Bible makes this comforting promise: "Jehovah is near to those that are broken at heart; and those who are crushed in spirit he saves." (Psalm34:18) It also encourages us to "throw your burden upon Jehovah himself, and he himself will sustain you". (Psalm55:22) The Bible also teaches that the dead will live again. Jesus himself said:"I am the resurrection and the life. He that exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life". (John5:28-29) May you find comfort in these scriptures and the promises that they contain.##imported-begin##C. Murphy##imported-end##

“ I send my heartfelt condolences to the family at this time. May you be comforted by knowing that many people care about what you are going through, especially our loving, heavenly father. When we are in pain it hurts his heart as well, because he loves us more than we could ever know, and he promises that he will comfort us during all of our tribulations. 2nd Cor 1:3,4. He also promises an end to all sickness and death, which was never his purpose for us. 1st Cor 15:26, lets us know: "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing. By means of a resurrection millions will come back to life. Jesus said these powerful words: "I am the resurrection and the life. He who exercises faith in me even though he dies, will come to life." John 11:25. May you find much hope in this wonderful promise to help you to endure in your sorrow, knowing that he is never far away from any of us. ##imported-begin## R Johnson ##imported-end##
